Row Crop Prospects Up

More rain fell in the Canyon area this week raising hopes for a better than average year for crops in Randall County.

A total of .12 inches of moisture was recorded Friday and Sunday in Canyon.

This added moisture has helped the dry land crops giving one of the largest yields of grain sorghum in county history.

Grain sorghum and grass under irrigation is expected to yield above normal. Some damage from weeds has occurred in many fields, but this is not enough to make a serious difference.

Wheat farmers are reporting that this has been the most ideal planting season for wheat to be remembered in many years. The crop is going in in excellent shape, and soil moisture seems to be adequate in all sections of the county for planting.

Many fields are already turning green with new crops. Wheat pasture prospects were never brighter. A good rain after all wheat is seeded would settle the ground and allow new wheat plants to develop a good root system so that grazing could be done.

Already thousands of head of stocker cattle are being moved into Randall County in preparation for the time when wheat grazing is ready. Many cattlemen believe that the fields will be ready to graze in early October.

Farmers would like to see several more weeks of fall weather before the first frost since some of the grain sorghum crops and cotton, in particular, need all the time they can get to mature.

Cattlemen will deliver a heavy weight calf as a result of the good grass and feed conditions in Randall County this summer.

Buff Tickets On Sale Now

Tickets for the "Buffalo" football games to be held at the stadium north of Canyon are on sale this week.

The ticket office is located in the fieldhouse on the campus of West Texas State University and will be open daily each week prior to a home game. The office will be open from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. including the noon hour.

Prices for stadium seats this year are $3.00, $3.50, and $4.00 per game.

Dowlen Is Appointed To Fill In

George Dowlen has been appointed assistant district attorney to attend to the duties of that office during the absence of Criminal District Attorney Truett Hull.

Hull is in Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo undergoing diagnosis and treatment.

Dowlen was appointed Monday by commissioners court. Commissioner Glenn Dowlen, father of the appointee, abstained from voting on the appointment measure.

Members of the court said the date when Hull may be able to return to his office was uncertain Monday.

Dowlen served as city attorney for Amarillo for a little more than a year before coming to Canyon to open practice. He grew up here at Canyon.

The court delayed opening bids on accident insurance on county road crews.

Xerox Company was awarded a contract to supply 76 rolls of photo copy paper at a cost of $3,050.64. The company also

TSTA Prexy Visits Teacher Meet Here

Approximately 75 persons turned out Monday night to welcome the Texas State Teachers Association president and vice-president and to honor the district 9 president who is from Canyon.

Mrs. Dan Sanders, Canyon High School teacher and president of the Panhandle district of TSTA, received special recognition in the work she has done for public schools in this area.

C. O. Chandler, president of TSTA and superintendent of schools in Victoria, and Mrs. Elizabeth Little, of Corpus Christi, vice president of the state organization, shared the spotlight with Mrs. Sanders. Mrs. Little will become TSTA president beginning in January.

Chandler spoke to the group on a recent trip to Rio de Janeiro in South America, where he met with educators from all the free countries of the world.

He pointed out that the United States is the only country with free education from the first through the twelfth grades, and continued his talk on the note that the backbone of a strong and stimulating country is the education provided in that country.

He concluded by emphasizing the need for teachers to realize the importance of their jobs of instructing the youth of America.

Mrs. Little followed Chandler on the program with a tribute to Mrs. Sanders for the work she has done for not only the Canyon area but also for the job she has fulfilled in the Panhandle.

Several members of the Canyon school board and faculty members from the Canyon public schools and West Texas State University attended the reception which was held in the foyer of the high school building.

"The Middle Letter Performers", a skit and musical program, will be presented by teachers at the meeting according to Mrs. E. R. Reeves, vice president and program chairman.

The middle letter "P" refers to the teachers who will be placed in the spot light when they are introduced by Huelyn Laycock, superintendent of schools. Laycock will introduce the principals James E. Miller, Oscar Hinger and L. H. Brotherton, who will in turn introduce all teachers in their buildings.

PTA Meet Set Tonight

The Canyon Parent Teacher Association will have a program and business meeting Thursday evening, (tonight), at 7:30 in the auditorium at Canyon High School.

"The Middle Letter Performers", a skit and musical program, will be presented by teachers at the meeting according to Mrs. E. R. Reeves, vice president and program chairman.

The middle letter "P" refers to the teachers who will be placed in the spot light when they are introduced by Huelyn Laycock, superintendent of schools.

Laycock will introduce the principals James E. Miller, Oscar Hinger and L. H. Brotherton, who will in turn introduce all teachers in their buildings.

Dale M. Harter, president, will preside at a short business meeting to be held following the program and all parents are invited to attend. Refreshments will be served following the meeting.

The Parent Teacher Association will have meetings on the third Thursday night of each month at 7:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium. "We The PTA Seek to Understand the Family Story" will be the theme for the eight monthly programs to be held this year.

Current Events Mag Scored At Meeting

Canyon school board Tuesday night voted to move with haste to prepare facilities for playing Canyon High School football games at a field at the high school in event of wet weather.

The school has been notified the latest notice coming last week—that wet weather will preclude use of Buffalo Bowl for high school games.

The board authorized Superintendent Huelyn Laycock to fence the field at the high school and take emergency measures to prepare for handling crowds.

Laycock advised the board that the field already has seating accommodations for about 1500 persons in event it is necessary to play Friday night's game there. He said arrangements could be made for more seating in the future.

The average high school stadium will seat from 2500 to 3500. It was agreed that temporary bleachers on the south side of the high school field probably would provide ample seating for a rainy night crowd.

There was a suggestion that temporary bleachers probably could be borrowed from the rodeo grounds.

Fletcher Sims appeared before the board to protest a current events magazine which he said was brought home by his son who is a seventh grader in Canyon school.

Sims said he believes the magazine carries out the communist party line. He was particularly critical of what he termed reports of normalcy in Cuba.

He said the magazine portrays Cuba as a "land of milk and honey."

"I think it is an unfortunate thing that a magazine like this should be in the hands of seventh graders," Sims declared.

The magazine under fire is Junior Scholastic, a current events magazine published at Englewood Cliffs, N.J., by Scholastic Magazines, Inc.

Sims showed the board an issue of the magazine dated Sept. 13.

The cover of the magazine bore a map of Cuba and the inscription: "Communist captive in the Caribbean."

He was especially critical of an article on the test ban treaty. Sims said the magazine is promoting the communist party line. "I don't think they are doing it knowingly," he finally conceded.

Sims requested the magazine be "taken from the school and the person who ordered it be investigated or held under suspicion."

Superintendent Laycock rose to the defense of his teaching staff. He said he had read the magazine and it was the usual

Frost Named ASC Chairman

John Frost was elected chairman of the Randall County ASC committee in a meeting of community chairmen Wednesday morning.

John Plank was picked as vice chairman and James Gruner will serve as a regular member. Emil Olson was elected as first alternate and David K. McChes was named second alternate.

The county committee will serve for 1964 and will be responsible for the operations of the farm program in Randall County.

The officers' positions will become effective October 1.

SO THIS IS COLLEGE? is the question freshmen at West Texas State University asked themselves this week as they tackled the long lines and many, many forms to be filled out during registration. Glenn Banks of

Snyder, Jimmy Babcock of Monahans and Richard Burton of Tulia found a cool spot outside the Union Building to begin the first step in enrollment. (Photo by Margo Williams)

Rebels Visit Canyon Bowl

Bufs Open Saturday

BY JOHN SHIELDS

The West Texas State University Buffaloes kickoff the 1963 football season at 7:30 p.m. Saturday in Buffalo Stadium against Arlington State College.

West Texas is loaded with fine talent, but the Rebels of coach Chena Gilstrap also have some fine players. In the last contest between the teams the Buffs blasted the Rebels 49-0. But the Rebels are looking for revenge and the score should be closer, one way or the other, in this tilt.

Spearheading the Arlington State attack will be returning quarterback Doug Wilson. Wilson, a fast runner and good passer, tallied more than 100 yards total offense per game in 1962. He averaged 5.2 yards a carry.

The backfield is rated as one of the best Gilstrap has tutored. Fullback Al Smith rambled for a 4.4 average each carry. Others adding to the power of the backfield are halfbacks Roger Richardson and Buddy Langford. Arlington State will average 177 pounds a man in the backfield compared to 171 for West Texas.

West Texas will counter with the fabulous "Pistol Pete" Pedro. The Lynn, Mass., native will be entering his last season to play for the Buffs. He will carry his 169 pounds from a halfback post.

Jerry Richardson will be Pedro's running mate at the other halfback slot. Richardson—a hometown product—is a good receiver, runner and he can also throw the ball with authority. Coach Joe Kerbel said, "He has been doing an outstanding job."

Ollie Ross, 215 pounds, will be the star at fullback. He is a tough runner and also a top-notch kick-off specialist.

Helmman for the Buffs is Hoot Gibson, returning for his last season. He was an outstanding defensive player in 1962. "Gibson and Bill Bundy (Gibson's replacement) have both been throwing the ball well," Kerbel stated on Tuesday.

On the receiving end of Gibson's aerials will be Jim Ostrander and Woody Gilliland. Ostrander has excellent hands and is a fine blocker. Gilliland tips the scales at 190 pounds and Ostrander 180.

Charles Daves will anchor the forward wall attack from his center position. He is a 200 pound junior.

The tackle slots will be manned by Jack Mayfield, 223, and John Varnell a 230 pound senior. Varnell is the only tackle with any experience. Mayfield was switched from a guard post and has adjusted real well, Kerbel said.

Eugene Baldwin replaced Mayfield at left guard. On the right side of the line at guard will be Jim Denny.

After the scrimmage Saturday Kerbel said, "We still have too many rough edges. Our timing is not coming around and our boys are not going at full speed. However, our line play was improved, and the tackling was sharp."

Gibson connected on 10 of 15 passes, good for two touchdowns. Three or four of the bombs were dropped by wide open receivers.

The Buffaloes will enter the game with 43 on the roster.

It will mark the first season that West Texas will be playing with a university status.

Girl Scouts Tell Of New Building Plan

A building program for Canyon Girl Scouts was announced this week as the Junior Women's Book Club gave $300 to the building fund.

Making the presentation for the club was Mrs. Fern Bellah.

Mrs. Bellah explained that the money was drawn from a fund originally accumulated by the club for a community building. When the community building failed to materialize, the club decided to apportion out some $1,000 on hand to various community projects.

Mrs. Bellah said that the money was accumulated over a period of years. It was earned by the club largely through its annual home show and style show.

Accepting the gift for the Girl Scouts was Mrs. La Verne Daniel, assistant Canyon Girl Scout committee chairman.

Mrs. Daniel said the money will be used in a Girl Scout building program presently contemplated. The Girl Scouts have purchased a house and lot directly west of the Girl Scout House in the 1600 block of Second Avenue.

Plans, as yet incomplete, call for construction of a new Girl Scout House on the site.

Mrs. Daniel said no concrete plans have yet been formulated.

Pony Bolts, Child Hurt

Maureen Gidden, 7 years old, suffered painful injuries Monday when a horse she was riding on the Dean Donnell place 3 miles South of town ran away with her.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Gidden.

The child lost two toes when the horse stopped suddenly and she was thrown into a barbed wire fence.

Scott Donnell, 13, was riding another horse nearby. The little girl dropped the reins of her horse and the animal bolted.

He ran about a half mile before stopping at a barbed wire gate.

Maureen was kept overnight at Neblett Hospital and dismissed. It was necessary to amputate two toes.

Mrs. La Verne Daniel, left, representing Canyon Girl Scouts, accepts a check for $300 from Mrs. Fern Bellah of the Junior Women's Book Club. The money will be used in the Girl Scout building program.

FROM THE CANYON RIM

'Tis fall and the fancy of old and young alike turns more than lightly to thoughts of football.

There's always talk, and we've thought about it often ourselves, that football is over emphasized. But no one can ever tell how many tensions are worn off or how much desire for violence is vicariously dissipated on a Saturday afternoon or evening at a football game.

Who knows? Your head may be whole on Sunday morning because your neighbor took out his yen for mayhem at a football game Saturday night instead of coming over and cracking your pate.

We seldom think about football without thinking of the soft-spoken coach at OU. Bud Wilkinson has been tutoring the Sooners almost since we can remember.

We've met him but have never seen him in action except on television. Those who know him say he is the master of soft sell.

Through the young coaches he has sent into the field as well as by other means, he probably has influenced the sport he loves so well more than any other man living today.

Our own Joe Rector at West Texas State is a Wilkinson product.

Most notable of Wilkinson-trained coaches is Darrell Royal who is head mentor at the University of Texas.

How gratifying it must be to Wilkinson when he thinks of how much his arch-foes at Austin owe him.

Pete Elliott at Michigan.

Eddie Crowder at Colorado and Jack Mitchell at the University of Kansas are a few of the Wilkinson-trained coaches sprinkled over the country.

Bud Wilkinson has done what few men do. He has become a legend in his own lifetime---while he's young enough to enjoy it, to boot.

We've known a lot of eccentric newspapermen in our time and have heard of a lot more. Gene Howe was eccentric about the weather. When he was in his office back in the days when we wrote weather stories for the Amarillo papers we always kept a weather forecast right up to date on our desk.

When Howe would storm out and ask about the weather, we always had it for him...just as fresh as H. C. Winburn could provide.

We had one personal compliment from Gene Howe in the four years we worked on his paper. We had written a story of two paragraphs on a visit by some Amarillo folks to Colorado.

The last paragraph was devoted to the weather in Colorado. Gene Howe always read his papers. His eye caught the paragraph.

He tore it out of his paper and strode over to the city editor's desk. He told Fred Post that the squib should serve as a model for such stories.

It was a memorable moment for a cub reporter.

A word of praise from the great man---the only one we ever had and to be treasured---was better than a $10.00 raise any day.

Dutch Tammens, the bartender who became a power on the old Denver Post, wouldn't hire a man if his shoes were run over.

No matter how well recommended the man came or how lifting his prose, if his shoes were run over, he just didn't get the job.

On the other hand, brash Dutch encouraged his reporters to be impudent. He said it was a gift that should be cultivated.

Another publisher of a Kansas newspaper, couldn't stand the sight of a snake.

When a comic strip with a drawing of a snake in it came to his paper, he would simply have an artist re-do the strip leaving out the reptile.

One of his top reporters, in a moment of forgetfulness while working on a big night time story, left his sleeves rolled up and exposed the tattoo picture of a snake. By chance the publisher walked in and fired him on the spot.

We once knew a man who swore he wouldn't extend credit to anyone whose profession began with the letter "P." This took in painter, printer, piano tuners---yes, and even publishers.

George Easons Head Mariners

Mr. and Mrs. George Eason were recently elected as skipper for the Presbyterian Mariners Club at an organizational meeting held on September 15th.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Jamison were elected as pursers. Elected as log keepers were Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Peters. Rev. and Mrs. Lars Hamerson were elected as first mates.

An installation for the new officers will be held on October 20th by the installing commission from the Golden Sails Mariners Club of the Grace Presbyterian Church of Amarillo. The Golden Sails Club is the sponsoring group for the local club.

The Presbyterian Mariners Club is open to all couples, without regard to age or affiliation, though it is an integral part of the Adult Education Program of the United Presbyterian Church.

Hilltop Views

In spite of Canyon's outstanding position as a place to live and rear a family it has certain remediable defects that need public attention.

1. Clean as towns go it yet needs a lot of soap and water, so to speak, in and behind its ears, around its neck, and on face and hands. True, most homes and business places are beautifully kept, but there are spots here and there where weeds and grass are so dense and so high that they might be mistaken for wild-life refuges. There are others so surrounded with junk of one kind or another that they are hardly recognizable as places of human habitation. Besides all this there are a few old run-down uninhabited shacks that would disgrace shanty-town in Old Mexico.

Folks, is there not something we can do to remedy these situations? As many public service organizations as we have in this town there is little excuse, it seems to me, for these conditions continuing from year to year. They are a menace to the health and good name of our community, and in some cases constitute a fire hazard.

2. While Buffalo Lake is not a Canyon enterprise this community is vitally interested in its upkeep and improvement. I may be ill-informed but I cannot think of any substantial improvements that have been made there in the last 15 or 20 years. You approach the main entrance on a perfectly paved road, but once inside government property you ride a wash-board whose convolutions are made of sharp-edged hard rocks. One can just about put a years wear on a tire in a round-trip from the entrance to the lake-side.

Once past the rock-ribbed wash-board road, crossed here and there by ditches made by rain, one comes to the water's edge lined with beautiful trees. But where is one to park? There is not an improved parking space on the whole 15 mile shore line. If one is persistent enough and can take the punishment in winding around and over steep and rugged hummocks he may find a fair place to park.

Another feature that needs attention is the lack of cleanliness---too much litter. It is realized that where a thousand or more people take their recreation every week-end for months in succession the problem of cleanliness is a big one. My guess is that the management does not have sufficient help during the summer months.

I want it understood that I am not complaining at those in charge of the lake. They are probably doing the best they can under the circumstances. If it should be found that they need help to make badly needed improvements a local or area committee should be created to work out the problems involved.

3. We have a traffic hazard in front of the Post Office and bank. I understand that there is a city ordinance against north-bound traffic there making a left turn to park on the west side of the street. People ought to respect it. Too many of them do not. In violating this ordinance they may not only create a serious hazard, but usually park at an angle that makes it difficult for others to get in and out. Just a little thoughtfulness on the part of a few people might save a life and it could be one's own.

Incidentally, a little more respect for law in general and by all of us would make Canyon a still better place to live.

Mrs. Crump In Hospital

Mrs. Guy Crump is in North-west Texas Hospital in Amarillo following a heart attack last Thursday night in Amarillo. Mrs. Crump is the mother of Mrs. Harold Brady and has been living with her daughter's family for several months.

She was in Amarillo attending to business and decided to spend the night in Amarillo when the heart attack occurred about 3 a.m. Mrs. Crump called a doctor and notified the Brady family.

CanyonMen's Father Dies

F.C. Hawthorne, 78, died at Roton, Texas last week. Attending the funeral services last Sunday were Percy Hawthorne and James Hawthorne and their families from Canyon. Percy and James Hawthorne were sons of the deceased.

Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. W.M. Dickerson last Sunday was his brother, Allan Dickerson, from Lubbock.

Webb Talks Of Dalhart

Coach E. J. Webb discussed the Canyon Eagles forthcoming tassel with Dalhart at the regular meeting of the Canyon Booster Club Tuesday night.

Webb pointed out to those attending the session that the weight of the Dalhart team is about the same as the Eagles, but Dalhart has more speed and good passers.

Films were shown of the Hereford-Canyon game played last Friday night.

The next meeting will be at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the high school cafeteria.

"We always have a good coffee session after the meeting and everyone is invited to attend," Roscoe Richardson, president, said.

Mr. and Mrs. J.D. Glenn of Amarillo visited last week with Mr. and Mrs. Doyle C. Thomas.

The J. D. Glens have been helping to remodel a home for the J. E. Thomases.

Smallwood Wins Honors

Chuck Smallwood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smallwood of Canyon, has made a name for himself among the youth of this area.

Chuck won the right to attend the national finale at Lubbock of the American Association of Sheriff's Poses and Riding Clubs to be held October 5-6.

He will compete in the spear ring and key hole contests at the finals.

Last week end Chuck got another first place with his horse Yucca Miss. The horse was picked as number one in the unregistered mares division of the Junior Chamber of Commerce horse show which was held in Canyon Sunday.

Wilson-McLarty Vows Exchanged

Miss Judith Kay Wilson became the bride of Marion Lynn McLarty in an afternoon ceremony at the First Presbyterian Church of Canyon last Saturday with Rev. John Lars Hamerson officiating at the double ring rites.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Richard Wilson of Canyon and her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. McLarty of Seymour. Nuptial vows were solemnized before a background of emerald palms with floor baskets of white gladioli that were flanked by seven branched candelabra.

Mrs. Lee Foster, organist, presented several Bach Chorales and special music including "Romance" by Charlotte Ingham Word, and "Arioso" by Handel. Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Winn and Mr. and Mrs. Truett Hull were members of a quartet that sang "Whither Thou Goest" by Guy Singer and "Wedding Benediction" by Mariah Drury at the evening ceremony.

A formal wedding gown styled with a bell shape silhouette of silk organza and featuring an apron effect of re-embroidered Alencon lace over the skirt was worn by the bride as she was escorted and given in marriage by her father. The full skirt was lined and extended into a chapel train. Pointed elbow length sleeves and a sabrina neckline trimmed with iridescent sequins were featured in the design of the fitted bodice.

Her elbow length veil of bridal illusion fell from a crown of heirloom lace that was made and worn by the bride's great grandmother at her wedding ceremony. Nylon organdy mitts fastened with eight buttons completed the bride's ensemble. The wedding mitts were made by the bride's maternal grandmother.

She carried a cascade arrangement of stephanotis centered with a white orchid atop her Rainbow Bible.

Miss Julia Lynn of Springfield, Ohio, cousin of the bride, was the maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Nancy Watson of Floydada and Miss Mary Lou Olson of Canyon.

The bridal attendants wore identical dresses of blue brocaded satin with street-length bell-shaped skirts featuring fitted bodices with sabrina necklines and capped sleeves. Circlets of matching fabric with blue full-circle net veils were worn by the attendants for headpieces. Vases Filled By G. D. Vice Flowers of all kinds, shapes, and sizes are being offered to Canyon folks by G.D. Vice, who lives southwest of Canyon High School.

Mr. Vice began his garden of Dahlias, Belles of Ireland, Golden Rods, Lady Slippers, and Morning Glories, in the early spring. After being hailed into the ground three times, the flowers are blooming full force in his garden.

Vice has invited all persons interested in having a vase filled with flowers to come to his home south of town.

"Turn right at the first road going south from the high school. My house is the first house on the left," Mr. Vice explained.

All flowers are free of charge, and Vice will fill vases each Sunday before 9 a.m.

"I've always loved flowers and I've always had a garden. I think flowers are beautiful, and I want other people to enjoy them as much as I do," Vice said.

ual current events magazine. "I'm just as concerned as Mr. Sims," said Laycock. "I've read it all and it presents an acceptable picture."

Laycock said that if there were anything wrong with the magazine he would be the first one to want it removed from the school.

"I read it today," said board member Jerry LaGrone, "and I can't find anything any different than the daily press."

Sims retorted that he also looks with disfavor on the daily press and does not subscribe to a daily newspaper.

"This thing (Junior Scholastic) pretty well gives both sides," LaGrone declared.

Board President J.O. Parker said that in his opinion members of the board should read the publication and come to a decision.

Laycock was authorized to change bus routes as he sees fit.

Several women who live in the Palisades met with the board to ask for bus service inside the Palisades. Some 25 children are involved.

Spokesman for the group was Mrs. B. J. Jordan. She said it is necessary now to meet the bus about a mile away from the Palisades.

She said this arrangement works a hardship, especially in the winter.

School officials say school buses have not been going into the Palisades because of road conditions and steep grades.

The delegation offered to improve the roads to school board specification if requested service is forthcoming. Members of the board will inspect Palisades roads Saturday afternoon.

Eagles Seek Revenge In Tilt Friday Night

The Canyon Eagles Friday night will be out to avenge a double defeat last year at the hands of the Dalhart Wolves.

Came time is 8 o'clock. The place still is in question. The contest will be played at Buffalo Bowl if the weather is good.

If there is rain or good prospect of rain, the game will be held on the field at the senior high school here.

The Eagles have their work cut out for them. The Wolves are rated as high as second in the state in some polls and are favored to make it three straight over the Eagles, who are undefeated so far this year.

Canyon lost to the Wolves 32-18 in regular season play last year and then was dropped 28-7 in bi-district play.

Both clubs have taken their first two contests this season. Canyon tripped Dimmitt 14-8 and Hereford 13-12.

Canyon's Eagles will probably be outwished both in the forward wall and backfield.

Three Eagles suffered injuries during the non-conference battle with Hereford. They are expected to be back in the lineup against the Wolves, coach E.J. "Jeep" Webb stated.

Those on the injured list are quarterback Tom Lair, halfback Jim Whinnery and guard Jody Sheets.

Webb said of the game with the Wolves, "I feel like we will have a hard time staying with them. They have three real good running backs in Philip Perkel and Jeff and John Colquitt, both starters last season. Dalhart has a well balanced club."

"Perkel does a real fine job of running and scoring. He isn't heavy but makes up for it with hustle and desire," Webb said. "The Colquitt brothers have done most of the scoring thus far. They were outstanding offensively last year and they also have good speed."

Webb said, "Victor Chandler, a starter last season, is an outstanding lineman. Tackle Dwight Clifton is also good. He is one of the finest punters and kickoff men we have seen in high school. Richard Penner, center, helps make the trap up the middle. Guard Glen Robertson is doing a real fine job, also."

Probable starting lineup for Canyon includes: halfbacks Bobby Evans and Whinnery, fullback Alex de Schweinitz, center Joe Kerbel, guards Stanley Pritchard and Sheets, quarterback Donald Breittling, tackles Wayne Colling and Danny O'Donald and ends Don Hawkins and Eddie Poole.

Evans drew praise from Webb for both his offensive and defensive work. Pritchard and Kerbel have been doing fine jobs defensively, Webb stated.

Others receiving special mention were Breittling, Poole and Hawkins. "The Hereford coaches were real impressed with Poole," Webb said.

"Our defense has been a little stronger than our offense the first two games. The offense looked better last week. We forced Hereford to play our type of game--up the middle."

Bus Route Starts Saturday

Canyon's first bus service will begin Saturday morning at the Canyon Bowl south of Canyon and travel through town, according to Eddie Knowles, Bowl owner.

The purpose of this service, which is being offered free of charge, is to provide a ride for persons to the bowling alley.

On week days the bus will make four runs daily from West Texas State to the alley giving the students an opportunity to watch color television or bowl.

On the Saturday nights when the bus will leave the bowling alley and arrive at the Buffalo Bowl in time for the game. Afterward the bus will pick up its passengers and take them back to their cars.

When the bus begins its route Saturday morning at 9 o'clock it will travel on Eighth Avenue near the junior high school building to 22nd St. It will cross to Sixth Avenue and proceed back to the junior high building, then it will cross to Fourth Avenue and go completely down to the Pioneer Addition in east Canyon.

The bus will go down Fifth Avenue to 24th St. and cross to west Sixth Avenue. From Sixth the bus will travel to Eighth Avenue down to 23rd St. and back to the bowling alley.

Any persons desiring to ride to the bowling alley should watch for the bus on one of the streets which will be serviced.

Eagles Nip Hereford 13-12 In Tilt Friday

BY JIM MARTIN

The district 2-AA defending champion Canyon Eagles scored the Hereford Whiteface eleven to come out the victor for the second time in the 1963 football season by a score of 13-12 in Whiteface stadium Friday night.

It was a hard fought battle all the way as the Eagle defense stood off the herd time after time to prevent their scoring. While the Eagle line pitted muscle and bone against the Hereford forward wall the Canyon backs were working hard in a game effort to move the ball.

The Eagle labors were rewarded late in the third quarter of play as Bobby Evans ran the longest play of his career to yardage.

What proved to be the deciding play of the game was the point after TD when the piskin split the uprights off the toe of Stanley Pritchard for the only successful extra point attempt of the game.

Hereford won the toss and elected to receive the ball at the start of the game. Don Breitling, doing the kicking chores for the Eagles, got away a beautiful boot which bounded into the end zone and was refused by the herd. The second kick was taken by Jim Higgins for the Whitefaces and returned to the 39 yard line in Hereford territory. After failing to gain the necessary yardage on the second series of downs the herd was forced to punt.

Hereford back Steve Hodges booted the ball to the Eagle 5 where it was whistled dead and Canyon took possession.

On the first play with the ball in their control the Eagles were penalized half the distance to the goal for being off sides, placing the ball on the 2 1/2 yard line. On second down Jim Whinnery punched through the Hereford defense for a gain of 8. Eddie Poole was then called upon to pick up the necessary yardage for the first down.

With first down and 10 yards to go Bobby Evans skirted end for a pickup of 4 yds. On second down 6 Don Breitling attempted a pass to Don Hawkins which fell away, incomplete. Jim Whinnery again hit the line for a gain of 5 to place the ball 1 yard short of a first down and the Eagles faced their first punting situation.

Don Breitling, standing on his own 18 yard line, got away a beautiful punt which was taken on the Hereford 30 by Whiteface halfback Ronny Duncan who plowed through Eagle defenders all the way for a 70 yard punt return and the first Hereford score. The herd then elected to try for the two pointer but were unable to penetrate the Eagle defense leaving the score, with 7:01 left in the first quarter, Hereford 6 the Eagles 0.

In the remaining portion of the first quarter and all the second quarter the defensive teams for both sides seemed to tighten up so as to allow no appreciable yardage for either team. The half ended with the score standing at 6 for the Hereford Whitefaces and 0 for the Canyon Eagles.

The Eagles received the kick off opening the second half. The kick was taken by Bobby Evans on the Canyon 15 yard line for a nice return to the Eagle 43 where it was first down and 10 yards to go. On the first play from scrimmage in the second half Breitling attempted a forward pass but was trapped and thrown for a loss of 5 yards. Alex de Schweinitz then carried for a gain of 3 and 1 respectively and the Eagles faced a punting situation. Don Breitling did the kicking and the ball was touched down on the Hereford 36 yard line.

Hereford then took charge of the ball and much to the sorrow of both the Eagle team and fans, on the second play, Jim Haney drove his way through tacklers all the way for a 58 yard touchdown play. The herd again elected to try for the two pointer and again met with strong resistance and failed. The score with 9:14 left in the third period was Hereford 12 and Canyon 0.

The kick after touchdown by Hereford was into the end zone and was taken on the 20 yard line by the Eagles.

After failing to pick up the necessary yardage in 3 successive tries Breitling again booted the ball which rolled dead on the Hereford 45 yard line. The herd moved the ball fairly well but penalties totaling 20 yards were stepped off against them and they were again facing a kicking situation with fourth down and long yardage.

Steve Hodges kicked into the end zone for Hereford but a clipping penalty was called against the Eagles at the 28 yard line. The 15 yard penalty was marked from the point of infraction thus placing the ball in play at the 13 yard line in possession of the Canyon Eagles.

With first down deep in their own territory Don Breitling handed the ball off to Bobby Evans who attempted a run around his left end. Bobby found the way around left end crowded with a herd of Whitefaces so (after he had almost been knocked off his feet) he reversed his field and came around the right end picking up blockers as he ran and went all the way to yardage on an 87-yard play from scrimmage. For the point after TD Stanley Pritchard laid his toe into the ball and split the uprights for 1, leaving the score standing at Hereford 12 and Canyon 7 with 3:41 left in the third period.

Don Breitling then kicked off to Hereford where it was taken on the 20 and returned to the 24. The herd was unable to move the ball and on fourth down kicked. Steve Hodges did the kicking chores for the Whitefaces and booted the ball out of bounds on the Eagle 34 yard line.

On first down Don Breitling, on a keeper play around right end picked up 7 yards. With second and three there was a fumble in the Eagle backfield and Hereford recovered.

The Whitefaces vainly attempted to move the ball but Bill Miller, Joe Kerbel and Eddie Poole had other ideas as they stopped their ball carriers for little gain. The third quarter ended with Hereford in charge of the ball on fourth down and leading in the ball game by a score of 12 to 7.

The fourth quarter opened with Hereford again kicking the ball. This time it went out of bounds on the Eagle 22 yard line.

The Eagles were again unable to pick up a first down and were forced to kick.

Hereford took over after a clipping penalty which set them back deep in their own territory at the 17 yard line. After two unsuccessful downs the herd quarterback handed the ball off to Jim Haney who found a hole in the Eagle defense with a lot of running room and nothing in the way. Nothing that is except the hand of Joe Kerbel.

which came up from the ground to grab Haney by the shoe strings and bring him down for little gain. Hereford was again forced to kick.

The kick was taken on the 40 by Dennis Haley and returned to the 43. Wayne Brewer attempted a carry through the line for a loss of a half yard. From this point to the goal line it was a very determined Eagle team on the field.

On second down Breitling carried to the 48 then again for the first down. Breitling again carried to the 36 then Dennis Haley to the 31 and another first. Now it was Haley to the 28 then Breitling to the 15 and Haley to the 11, Breitling for no gain, Haley to the 2 ft. line. Breitling on a keeper went to the six inch line.

With 3:12 left in the game Breitling smashed across the goal line and the Canyon Eagles lead by a score of 13-12. The try for the two points failed.

Breitling's kick after touchdown went into the end zone and was taken by Hereford on the 20.

After picking up one first down and finding themselves short of yardage on fourth down, the herd attempted to go for it and failed giving the Eagles the ball on the Hereford 35 yard line.

Canyon had time to get off only two more plays before the clock ran out ending the game with the score standing at 13 for the Eagles and 12 for the Whitefaces of Hereford.

It was a great battle on the part of both teams. Special credit should go to the defensive line up on the Eagles for a magnificent effort.

To name some of the defense we have Eddie Poole at left end, Wayne Colling at left tackle, Bill Miller at middle guard, Joe Kerbel at center, Stanley Pritchard at right tackle, Don Hawkins at right end, Alex de Schweinitz corner back, Jim Whinnery corner back, Dennis Haley, half back, Bobby Evans half back, and Don Breitling at the linebacker spot.

The entire Eagle squad turned in a good performance in defeating a team that was really in there to win.

Pokes Seek Second Win

Happy Cowboys clash with the Claude Mustangs tomorrow night at Claude seeking a second victory this season.

After an open date last week the Cowboys are ready to tackle the Mustangs who won a 24-8 tangle with Clarendon last Friday night.

"We have been working on general plays, and trying to polish up our game," Happy coach Dean King said this week.

Happy won its opener against Turkey 13-0, but the Cowboys were plagued with fumbles throughout the game.

"Claude has nearly all its starters back from last year, and they have good speed," King explained.

Doyle Bryan, 190 pound guard for the Cowboys, will probably not see action in the Friday night game due to an injury to his knee last week. Aside from this injury the team is in good shape physically, King pointed out.

"One reason we fumbled so much against the Turks was that all our backs are inexperienced. I hope they will be ready for the Mustangs," the coach said.

12 Snakes Killed On Smith Place

Lester A. Smith thought he had been given more than he bargained for this month as he began building a home south of Canyon.

Since the middle of August Smith has killed 12 rattlesnakes, one of which was a prospective mother of 15 baby rattlers.

The trouble with the snakes began on a Saturday in August when Smith and his wife were looking over the land where they were going to build a house. Smith's wife saw a snake, and her husband killed the first rattler.

A week later Smith again was checking some gopher holes on his property and ran across two snakes. He shot both snakes.

and realized that one of them was a prospective mother.

"We counted 15 baby snakes which would have been born probably within several days," Smith said.

But the fun was not over. The next morning Smith found and killed three more snakes building nests in the large holes near the house site.

The next weekend the now experienced rattlesnake hunter took his brother-in-law, Alton Darst of Amarillo, snake hunting.

"We found two baby snakes outside a hole, and the mother showed up soon after we shot

Top Sportswriter Covers Buff Football

BY TROY MARTIN

From Houston to Montreal, from San Francisco to London, Frank Godsoe can slouch into any press box and be recognized with the respect due a master of the trade.

Godsoe's slightly stooped frame, draped loosely with sundry sports attire---chosen with the freedom enjoyed only by a bachelor---is a familiar sight at Buffalo football practice this year.

His nose is slightly battered from brawls of yester year. He admits he was somewhat of a fist fighter in days gone by.

His eyes peering through horn rimmed glasses sees everything that takes place on the football field while he carries on a running conversation about the West Texas New Mexico League of 20 years ago.

He looks like a sportswriter. His lilting prose---followed avidly by fans all over the country---prove he is a sportswriter.

Frank Godsoe has jammed enough colorful living in his 47 years to do a lot of men a century.

Godsoe is back home in Amarillo after 13 years on The Houston Press. He'll be covering Buffalo football this year for The Amarillo Daily News.

Folks at the WT Field House are glad to see Godsoe back on the Buffalo trail. Frank Kimbrough grins from ear to ear as he reads Godsoe columns and ladles out season tickets at a record rate.

"He's just what we needed," Coach Joe Kerbel and Sports Information Director Tom Greenhoe echo each other last week.

Natural talent, a will to work and love of writing and sports are ingredients of Godsoe's success.

Frank Godsoe was born Jan. 9, 1916 in Waco, three blocks from the Baylor campus.

He moved to Oklahoma and grew up mostly in Oklahoma City.

He got into the newspaper business as a news butch and that was the indirect cause of him falling in love with sports.

"Babe Ruth was hitting a home run every day," Godsoe reminisced. "Ty Cobb was stealing two or three bases, Tris Speaker was catching everything that stayed in the ball park and Jack Dempsey was knocking the people bowlegged."

"The Old Oklahoma News was the Scripps-Howard paper and they had sports on page one in the afternoon. Baseball was played in the daytime and a newsboy had to know his merchandise."

"I started following baseball and other sports at the age of 7."

Godsoe came to idolize the Yankee baseball team and Jack Dempsey.

As a little shaver, Frank wept blinding tears as he sold papers telling of the famous long count fight in which the Manassas Mauler lost his heavyweight title to Gene Tunney.

Frank developed an interest in boxing and began hanging out at the Mary Garden Gym, a place where boxers congregated. He learned the jargon of the fight game from boxers and trainers.

"Their conversation was an education for a kid," Frank grins.

"I never did box myself but I used to have three newsboy brawls an afternoon," he continued. "If another boy sold a paper on your corner he either bought it back or there was a fight."

When he was a kid Frank had been a member of the knot hole gang and saw as many ball games as he could.

When Topeka came to town he served as a bat boy. This was because of John Levi, a big Indian who had been one of the all-time great football players when he attended Haskell Institute at Lawrence, Kan. Levi's feats still fill the football record books.

He was an outfielder for Topeka when Godsoe ran into him. He saw Frank hanging around the gate and took him in as a bat boy. Levi had a fine day and he gave Frank all the credit, thinking the boy was lucky.

From then on, Levi requested---no, most vehemently and on occasion violently insisted---that Frank fill the job of bat boy when Topeka visited Oklahoma City.

"He's another one of my all-time heroes," Frank declared.

At Haskell Institute, Levi was coached by Mattie Bell. Godsoe said he talked to Bell recently about the big Indian. He quoted Bell as having said John Levi probably was even better than the great Jim Thorpe.

The son of a Baptist minister, Godsoe moved around a bit with his family as a lad. He played football, basketball and was on the debate team at Fairview, Okla., before moving back to Oklahoma City.

He got an industrial arts diploma at Central High School in Oklahoma City after having majored in printing. Those were depression years and Frank considered himself fortunate just to graduate from high school.

Leaving school, he worked at a variety of jobs. He was boy Friday at a radio station where he drew $3 a week. He began writing columns for two weekly papers and was fired by the radio station.

"I guess they thought they couldn't get their $3 worth out of me with me writing columns," Godsoe said with a tinge of bitterness.

Godsoe worked in the printing trade feeding job presses and considered making the graphic arts his life work. He still was interested in sports. "I followed the Oklahoma City Indians and St. Louis Cardinals," he declared.

Godsoe gave some serious thought to going into graphic arts but decided to write instead.

Frank says he moved to California in 1935 and shuttled between California and Oklahoma two or three times.

He worked in an iron foundry and then a steel foundry. "I think I set a record for getting into fights," he declared rue-fully.

Godsoe went back to Oklahoma and managed a commercial softball park. A part of his job was handling publicity for a softball club. He also did some boxing and wrestling publicity as well as for softball and midget auto racing.

It was about that time he met Harry Gilstrap. Gilstrap was a wrestling promoter and Frank began helping him. It was then that Gilstrap started shaping Godsoe's career and over the years their friendship became almost a father-son relationship.

Gilstrap now is business editor of the Amarillo papers.

Godsoe says he started playing golf and caddying when he was about 12 years old. One day he just walked off the course vowing never to return unless to play a game of golf or to watch one played. Through the years he has covered all the big time golf tournaments including the national open.

In 1938, Frank began to referee and judge amateur fights.

When he went to the service in 1941 he was secretary-treasurer of the Oklahoma AAU. In the armed forces, he rose to the rank of master sergeant in Air Force intelligence with the Ninth Fighter Command. He saw service in North Africa and Europe.

When Frank got out of the service, he visited his dad who was pastor of Central Baptist Church in Amarillo at the time. Putt Powell offered him a job in sports at The Amarillo Globe-News. Godsoe says he turned it down and planned to go to Fort Worth or Dallas.

Fred Post offered him a job as a general reporter on The Globe-News. Godsoe accepted, working the night side.

He worked there 18 months and in the meantime Harry Gilstrap, his friend from wrestling promotion days, came to the paper as sports editor.

Harry would "borrow" Frank from the city news side to work on sports. One night Bob Wright, the night editor, told Gilstrap he could keep Godsoe full time as a sports writer because another reporter had been hired for city news.

"I always have considered myself a reporter working at sports," Godsoe declares.

Godsoe worked at The Globe for 4 1/2 years in sports and did a little of everything including coverage of 32 Class AA football teams.

He began helping Gilstrap with coverage of the West Texas-New Mexico baseball league and also covered Buffalo football.

FRANK GODSOE

"I never had more fun than when I was covering West Texas-New Mexico baseball," Godsoe declared.

"I'll never forget one night while the Gold Sox were taking batting practice," Godsoe chortled. "A ball was fouled over the stands and hit a fellow right between the eyes. He didn't know what had hit him so he hauled off and cold cocked the ticket taker."

Godsoe said he made trips with the Gold Sox. The entire team and their equipment had to travel in two station wagons. A great pitcher by the name of Lefty Lonergan showed up with a toothbrush, the clothes he was wearing and a pair of BVDS in a paper sack.

"On that trip Lefty became the strongest pitcher in the league," Godsoe declares. "When the wind was right, he was even stronger than that."

About 1951 The Houston Press offered Godsoe a job he just couldn't turn down. During his 13 years on The Press he covered every imaginable top assignment and wrote a column called "Muscle Market."

He covered sports at the University of Houston and at Rice Institute.

His writing did much to attract boxing to Houston. He established an international reputation as a boxing writer and was quoted from Australia to England.

During his last three years with The Press he covered 60 games for the Houston Oilers. His writing has been featured in such national publications as True, World Tennis, Sporting News and others. Through these media he became one of the better known Texas sportswriters in a half dozen different fields.

Godsoe wrote reams of copy on Roy Harris from the time he turned pro.

Frank went to London two years ago to handle publicity for the world championship fight between lightweight champion Joe Brown and Dave Charnley, British champion.

He handled the training camp for Harris when Harris challenged Floyd Patterson.

While on vacation last year he went to Las Vegas and handled publicity for a fight scheduled between Joe Brown and Carlos Ortiz. The lightweight championship fight was postponed. Brown later lost the title.

"I always liked it here and I always liked the paper," was how Godsoe summed up his reasons for returning to Amarillo.

Godsoe writes a column for the morning Amarillo paper and will be traveling with the Buffalo football team this season. "I think it's a great football team coached with great vision and imagination," declared Godsoe while watching a scrimmage session Saturday.

If it is a great team this year, the world will know about it. Godsoe will see to that.

Cort Rushmer plays an important role in Buffalo football. Rushmer is an apt name for a guy who has to rush out movies of Saturday night football tussles in time for the Joe Kerbel television show on Sunday afternoon. Cort often finds himself junketing through the night by plane, train and jeep. When the Buffs played at Tucson last year, Rushmer motored the film from Phoenix after the game, spent the night processing them and then put them on a plane to Albuquerque where they were picked up by Kerbel, who was making the return trip by private plane to be on hand for his show.

Fairview Breezes

By MRS. J. W. WESLEY

The rains sure have been nice to our community. It is almost too wet to plow now.

Jimmy Stoneberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Stoneberg of Cordell, Oklahoma, is reported to be improving from a badly infected hand.

Jimmy was in the hospital for several days following a fall on a stick that left slivers of wood in his hand. He is the grandson of the Frank Rogers family.

Rev. and Mrs. John Sullivan and children had lunch last Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. John Patterson.

Mr. and Mrs. Hill Smith and sons, Hill, Jr., Elmo, Billy, and Sammy attended church services at Fairview last Sunday and visited with his daughter's family, Mr. and Mrs. Cortez McNeal.

Visiting in the J. W. Wesley home last week end were their son's family, Mr. and Mrs. Elvin Wesley from Brownfield.

Other week end guests were Mr. and Mrs. Arlen Wesley and children, Kyle Ray and Ludia Ann, from Lubbock. Arlen Wesley is a grandson of the J. W. Wesleys.

Woodrow Wesley and Ed Turner made a trip to Utah last week by plane to attend to business.

C. R. Wesley has enrolled in Hardin-Simmons University at Abilene where he will be a student this fall.

The sixteen year old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Lanrim is hospitalized at Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo for observation following injuries that he received recently while participating in a rodeo.

F.O. Amerson visited with Mr. and Mrs. G.E. Wesley one afternoon last week and he said that he is doing fine as long as he can be still and not do anything, but that it is really hard to sit and do nothing when he has always been able to do anything that he wanted for so long.

Ronald Mooney of Wayland Baptist College delivered the sermon at church Sunday morning. Mrs. Mooney played the piano and another student from Wayland led the musical program.

Amarillo Backs The Buffs

NO. 63...JIM DENNY...GUARD...5'10", 185...senior from Borger, Texas...Jim is the "mighty mite" of the Buffalo line...very small by college standards for an interior lineman, Jim makes up for lack of size with fight, desire and speed...he has been known to whip an opposing lineman who outweighed him by more than 40 or 50 pounds. Jimmy is the leading pulling guard on the team. With his speed, Jim often leads the backs around the ends on the sweep plays.

He is single and plans a career in coaching. He has the varied duty of playing both line-backer and on the inside on defense. Parties are Jim's main hobby and his light wit helps to keep the atmosphere light on the practice field for the rest of the squad. A big year is expected of Jimmy in 1963.

WT
VS
ARLINGTON STATE
SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 21, 1963
GAME TIME — 7:30 P M

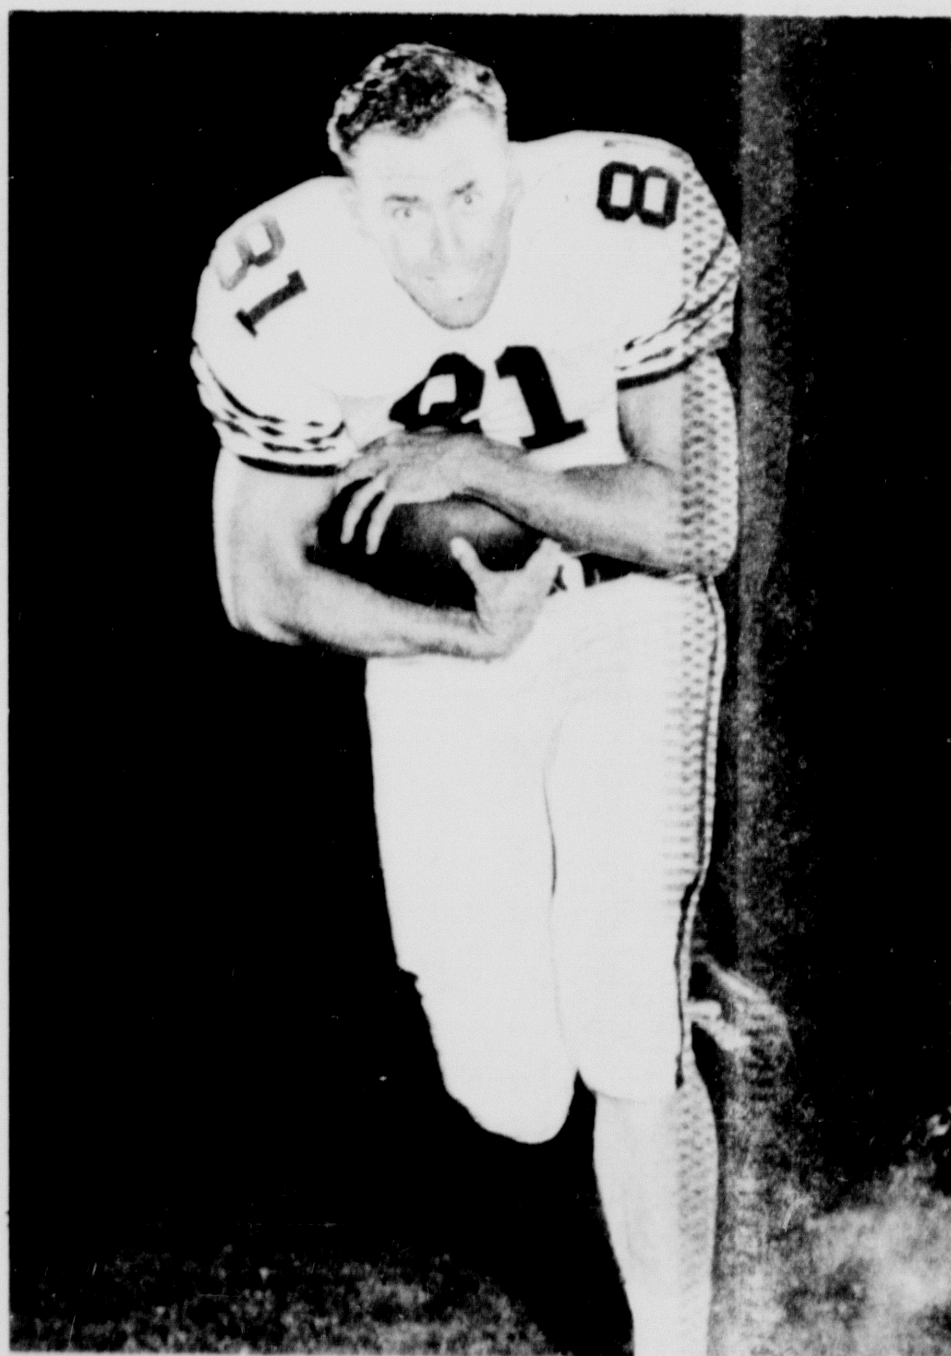

NO. 71...JOHN VARNELL...TACKLE...6'4", 240...senior from Plainview, Texas...John goes into his senior year with hopes for his biggest season as a member of the Buff football squad. He has been troubled with injuries in the past and he hopes, along with coach Kerbel and the rest of the team, that this year will be his "healthy year".

John came to WT unannounced and asked if he could play football. Coach Kerbel recognized talent in the boy and John has been giving his all for the Buffalos ever since...he is one of the hardest workers in the Buff camp. John could be the key to this year's line as the tackle position is the least experienced position on the ball club. The tackles have to go to make coach Kerbel's pro type split-T offense go. John is an exceptional student majoring in math, but is undecided about his future plans at this time...he is high on the lists of pro football draft choices and could make a future for himself in either the NFL or AFL. John is single.

NO. 51...CHARLES DAVES...CENTER...6'7", 200...a junior from Mineral Wells, Texas...Charles started the opening game of the 1962 season at center without any college experience behind him...he held on to the starting center position throughout the season and turned in an outstanding job.

Daves plays the middle line-backer position on defense and keys the defensive line to the opponents offensive formations. His hard tackling brought many words of praise from coach Joe Kerbel in '62. Charles is back in the harness at center this fall and has looked very good in practice sessions thus far. He has added a few pounds to his frame since last season and should be even tougher to move out at his defensive position.

Daves was discovered by the WT coaching staff from the study of high school films. He was not the subject of a scouting program. He lists rodeos and girls as his main hobbies. Daves made All-District in '59 and '60 at Mineral Wells. He is majoring in Physical Education and may choose a career as an army officer. Charles is termed as being very tough in the hole on defense by coach Kerbel, and the coach is very happy that Daves is only a junior and has one more year to play for the Buffs after this season.

NO. 81...JIM OSTRANDER...END...6'7", 185...Senior from Barstow, California...Jim transferred to West Texas State last year from Chaffey California Junior College...He came into the Buffalo camp as a halfback but took over one of the vacated end positions created when two boys left for home...Jim made the transition well...he proved to have excellent hands and the blocking and tackling ability needed to play the tough end position for head coach Joe Kerbel...

Jim had an outstanding year in 1962...he caught four passes for 47 yards during the regular season and was a standout in the Buffalo victory over Ohio University at the Sun Bowl...he caught the game winning 2 point conversion play after the Buffs scored their last touchdown...Jim is also remembered for his 74 yard pass interception return for a touchdown against Bowling Green State College in Buffalo Bowl last fall.

He was an all-around athlete in high school playing in three sports. Jim is married and hopes to have a career in teaching and coaching after graduation from WT next Spring.

Mrs. Stratton Moving After Half A Century

Mrs. C.H. Stratton is moving to Dewey, Okla., after living in Canyon off and on since 1911.

Mrs. Stratton is moving to be near her son, Charles, who is a research engineer with Phillips Petroleum Company at Bartlesville.

"Charles will drive right by my house everyday," declared Mrs. Stratton.

"I hate to leave Canyon," Mrs. Stratton said, "I like it here so much and I have so many friends here, but I need to live near Charles. I've had a good time living around Canyon."

Mrs. Stratton was born at Whitesboro. She came to Canyon first in 1911 to attend West Texas Normal School. She went to school here in 1911 and 1912 and then took a teaching job.

"I've still got a school sweater from 1912," Mrs. Stratton related.

She taught in Grayson County. "That was back in the days of 1-teacher schools," she said.

CanyonMan's Father Dies

J. T. Curb, 87 years old, father of J. C. Curb of Canyon, died Monday at Fort Worth.

Funeral services were held Wednesday at Post. Curb left Tuesday to attend services.

Mr. Curb had lived in Fort Worth since last December. Prior to that time he had made his home in Post for 35 years. He was a retired farmer.

Mr. Curb was a member of the Church of Christ.

Survivors include the wife, four sons and two daughters.

Mrs. Faye H. Chain of Canyon was among approximately 40 librarians and other interested persons from eight states who attended the first annual Conference on Manuscripts Management Sept. 6-7 at the University of Oklahoma.

"You taught everybody who came to school."

"I rode a horse to school. I had to ride side saddle. I couldn't ride astride or they would have outlawed me for it."

Mrs. Stratton was married in 1915. Her husband sold real estate and worked as a night watchman. Mr. Stratton died about 10 years ago and Mrs. Stratton has been living alone since that time.

Probably Mrs. Stratton's most artistic accomplishment is her quilting. She loves to quilt and has made it her hobby over the years.

Mrs. Stratton says she doesn't like the idea of moving away from Canyon but does like the idea of living near her son and his family.

Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Claude E. Boatman last week was their son's family, Mr. and Mrs. James Boatman and children, Marsha and Sammy, from Ames, Iowa.

Happy mayor Dr. Glen L. Robinson came to the Panhandle area in 1939 to do post-graduate work in Amarillo under a prominent doctor at that time. Robinson moved to Happy and became the town doctor and later the town's mayor.

Happy Mayor Proud Of Panhandle Town

From a student who studied at the doorway of a private club in Kansas City in the 1930's to a general practitioner and mayor of a Panhandle town is a story modestly told by Happy's mayor, Dr. Glen L. Robinson.

Robinson was not a foreigner to work when he entered medical school in Kansas City in 1933 and began working every night. He had worked his way through junior college in Nebraska, and had saved money to pay for his tuition at Kansas City College of Osteopathy and Surgery in Missouri.

"Work was somewhat of a natural thing at our house. My father farmed and owned a produce business and we were familiar with work and saving money," Robinson recalled.

So when Robinson secured a job checking membership cards at a private club for eight hours each night, he knew how to utilize his time and study as he worked.

"The job I had didn't require anything but to check cards when someone wanted in, so I had plenty of time to study each night," he explained.

Following graduation from medical school the eager boy opened his own practice in Oberlin, Kansas.

"I didn't have anything except a two-year-old car which my father gave me at the time of graduation," the doctor said.

But for two years he earned a living at his new profession. He realized the advantages of getting special training from a doctor in Amarillo, so he packed his car and travelled to the Panhandle.

"I came to Amarillo to get post graduate work from a doctor who was a specialist in rectal surgery. Hooked around and realized the potential of Happy, and just moved here," Robinson said.

The young man set up a practice in Happy in 1939, and has remained, serving as the only doctor in town.

"Happy is like what McCook, Nebraska used to be. I was born in McCook in October of 1912, and I grew up thinking I was going to be a doctor in a small town," Robinson recalled. But not included in his aspirations to be a doctor was the idea of someday being his town's mayor.

"I was appointed mayor in 1956 when the former mayor resigned. I've served in that position since that time," the mayor said.

Helping Robinson in his handling of city affairs are Harry Hardaway and Bob Dowd, Happy commissioners. Other city employees who keep the town running smoothly are Bill Anderson, fire chief of the volunteer fire department, and Reed McDonald, city policeman.

"The City Commission meets once a month at 11 a.m. We handle bills and city business at those meetings," Robinson explained.

Aside from his professional and civic duties, Robinson enjoys his wife and son. He and his wife, Anna Bee, were married in 1945 in Happy and their son Bob is 14 years old.

"Bob was going to play some football this year, but he broke his knee last week, so we will have to wait until next fall to see him play," the father said.

When asked about reading interests, the doctor said, "I read medical journals mainly. There is so much to learn in the medical field that you have a tough time just keeping up."

But Dr. Glen L. Robinson must be doing more than just 'keeping up'. He received the "distinguished service to his profession and community" award from the Texas Society of General Practitioners last spring.

From a boy who studied at the doorway of a club to a prominent doctor and mayor of his town, Dr. Glen L. Robinson has grown with Happy and Happy has been influenced by this quiet, steady man.
